

2020 Michigan Humanities Awards

Be a Champion for the Humanities!

Michigan Humanities was established in 1974, and during that time great partnerships have been established to support the humanities throughout Michigan.

On May 20, 2020, Michigan Humanities will honor and celebrate outstanding contributions to the humanities in our state. Michigan Humanities will recognize individuals and organizations who have advanced the humanities in Michigan through leadership, education and advocacy. What better way to honor and recognize the important work being done in our state?

Data shows that more tech companies are hiring humanities graduates because of their skills: being able to write, communicate with teams, understand other cultures, and solve problems. We believe young leaders will be instrumental in our vision of having Michigan people experience and understand the importance of humanities to enrich their lives.

Please join us in recognizing these dedicated Michiganders who make our state a better place to work and live. Supporting these awards will show you recognize the importance of their work, and believe humanities are a powerful tool that can shape and guide us as citizens and neighbors.
